STRIKE BREAKERS RUN FROM TOWN

Wrecked appearance. A 10 foot fence topped with barbed wire inclosing the shops will soon be finished.

A platform for the automatic rifles erected on top of the master mechanic's office will be boxed in with double partition walls filled in with sand and lined with sheet iron. To aid the men manning the guns at night, an electric flashlight will be installed.

Police and Guards at Oats. Centralla, Ill. Oct. 7.—Three city police officers, stationed on the Illinois Central platform, were served with notices of the federal injunction obtained by the Illinois Central from Judge Wright. They were instructed not to trespass on the railroad's property.

One of the road's guards was fined in police court on charges of carrying concealed weapons. Mayor Frazer issued orders to arrest all armed guards caught off the company's property.

Strikers Drive Men From Town. New Orleans, La., Oct. 7.—As a result of the attack by Illinois Central strikers and sympathizers on the school building where 118 strikebreakers were quartered, the latter yesterday afternoon were escorted to a train by armed guards and rushed out of the city. "If these 'wabs' are removed before half past 3, our men will let them depart in peace. I cannot be responsible after that hour for what happens if the strikebreakers are still here."

This is what W. E. Bowen, secretary of the Federated Trades, and local strike leader, told acting mayor McCracken and inspector of police Reynolds. At 3:20 promptly the strikebreakers were placed on a special train and rushed out of the city for McComb City, Miss.

Grand Trunk Locks Out Men. Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 7.—The Grand Trunk Pacific railway locked out 60 percent of its mechanical staff, extending from Port William, Ont., to Edmonton, Alberta. This includes all mechanics, boilermakers and their helpers. The other 40 percent will be called out today.

The company is said to have declined to grant mechanics the same wage scale as on other roads in western Canada.

STRIKEBREAKERS GO THROUGH TO TUCSON Local Shops Run Full Time, With About 100 Men Employed The first act of violence in connection with the railroad strike here occurred soon after quitting time Friday evening when one of the Mexican car yards employees was struck by an American said to be a union picket stationed at the Campbell street crossing. Both men were taken in charge by deputy sheriff Stanley Good and taken to the sheriff's office. No charge was filed against his assailant by the Mexican and he was liberated.

The G. H. shops continue to operate full time and a shipment of 54 strikebreakers passed through El Paso Saturday morning for Tucson, Ariz. This indicates that no more men are wanted at the local shops and that the present force, which is said to be more than 100, is sufficient for the present work of the company. A number of applications have been received, according to the railroad company, but the applications are being turned down or referred to other cities as the force is as large as wanted here, the officials say.

The union men say that the ultimatum fixed by the company for allowing the men to return to work for the company, will have no effect upon the strike situation and no men are expected to file their applications by Monday, the time fixed for receiving these applications.

A dance is given by the unions in the Fraternal Brotherhood hall Thursday evening for the benefit of the unfilled strikers who are not drawing strike benefits as they have no membership in any of the unions. The report at labor headquarters Saturday morning showed that two men had quit the service of the car department at Valentine and had joined the strikers.

INVADING ROYALISTS FIGHT REPUBLICANS

Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 7.—Semi-official intelligence regarding the monarchist invasion fixes the number of royalists who crossed the Spanish frontier near VVinhuares at 1250.

The republican troops garrisoning VVinhuares after a skirmish with the invaders retreated. Later two regiments of infantry and one of cavalry were sent to the field by the republican commandant at Villareal. They engaged the royalists who after fighting an hour and a half, slowly gave way and retired to the more mountainous district in the direction of Spain.

The republican losses were insignificant.

EL PASOANS BACK FROM EXCURSION

El Paso always has had for New Mexico.

At Tularosa. Tularosa, N. M., Oct. 7.—Tularosa gave the El Paso business men's excursion the same characteristic New Mexico welcome that it has received at other points, and the El Pasoans shook hands, not acquainted and invited the Tularosa people to attend the big Statehood Jubilee. The band played for the Tularosa people while the El Pasoans visited with the business men. Features of the stay here were the ring dance at the principal corner, participated in by all the El Pasoans and school teachers and school girls, and the carnival of wagons and carriages of all sorts, as well as mounted men that accompanied the El Pasoans to their train.

The Trip to Carlsbad. Carlsbad, N. M., Oct. 7.—The El Paso trade excursionists spent the night here, arriving Friday evening.

From Fort Sumner, where they were at noon Friday, the excursionists made a thorough trip to Vaughn, stopping first at "new town," the Santa Fe station, where they visited the Harvey house and the railroad reading rooms, and were shown about by Santa Fe officials. The train then stopped in Vaughn proper, where the band played a concert for half an hour, while the people of the town greeted the visitors. At Vaughn the train was transferred to the El Paso & Southwestern, and as the train came south, stops were made at Duran, Corona and Ancho. At each place much enthusiasm was shown by the people and the welcome to the visitors was as usual, warm hearted and sincere.

At Corona there were a number of out of town people at the station to welcome the visitors. The band played a short concert at each of these stops.

The Carlsbad Reception. It was a big night for the El Pasoans in Carlsbad. The whole town was at the station when the special arrived, shortly after dusk, and they cheered as the band piled out and began playing and the El Pasoans swung off the train and began shaking hands with the townspeople. Practically all the business men of Carlsbad were huddled about the train, and they were a real reception committee, too. Women and young girls were also in the crowd at the station. It was a general reception from all Carlsbad. The not merely a small reception from a few people.

The band played a concert in the street for a time, and then it played in the town hall for another hour. Then the orchestra of the band began to furnish music for a dance in honor of the El Pasoans, and dancing continued until after midnight.

The train left early this morning, in order to complete the trip and get back to El Paso early this afternoon.

While the train was standing on the track here last night, the officials of the Tri-State Telephone company agreed to connect it with the local and long distance lines of the company, and many El Pasoans used it to talk home to their families.
